Be Your Brother/Sister’s Keeper

Do you remember your first day at work? With recent hiring trends, we have a few new members throughout all the facilities we represent. They may not realize yet how hot, dirty, and sometimes dangerous our jobs can be. As good union brothers/sisters, we need to do our best to keep an eye on our newest members to keep them safe and show them the ropes. If you have a new member in your area, please take the time to point out all the details and hazards of their work area and help them in any way you can. Working safely may get old, but so do those who practice it. Stay safe out there.

Union Sportsmen’s Alliance Membership
